The Minute Man Games is an off road running/walking race during which participants will have to complete various “secret” tasks along the way. There are no dangerous tasks and nothing that will damage or ruin expensive workout clothing. For instance we do not have any mud holes, barbed wire or electric shocks. The idea behind the ‘secret’ tasks is to level the playing field and to slow the ultra fast runners down to the level of mere mortals. Tasks are all able to be completed by all ages. If someone can cover 3 miles on foot they can complete the Minute Man Games.
